

Mess, Sir Henry

Principal, University of London

Sept. 1914

September 12th, 1914

Principal Sir Henry Miers, F.R.S.,

University of London.

My dear Sir Henry:

Many thanks for your letter. I shall be very glad indeed if you will continue to keep us in mind and let me have any information from time to time that may occur to you as likely to be helpful in filling the Deanship of our Faculty of Applied Science. For the winter we shall have an acting Dean.

We got home safely though there was a chance of the boat being taken off till two days before we left. At that time the conditions on the continent were very critical and we were anxious all the way out, but so far as we can judge there is a decided improvement. The spirit of our people is splendid and we all realise that we are one in this matter.

With kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

President.